3rd Sunday in Ordinary Time – Year A

This Sunday's Gospel marks the beginning of Jesus' public ministry. St Matthew places us in Galilee, quoting the Scriptures to show that God's promises are now being fulfilled. Called "Galilee of the Gentiles," it reminds us that God's light is meant for all, even while Galilee itself was a place of strong faith, prayer, and devotion. Into this living tradition, Jesus proclaims a clear and urgent message: "Repent, for the Kingdom of heaven is at hand." This Word becomes the heart of his mission and the source of all that follows.

As Jesus passes by, he calls his first disciples. For some, this is their very first encounter with him, yet his Word carries such authority that they leave everything behind and follow immediately. On this Sunday of the Word of God, the community of Stella Maris Church is invited to hear this Gospel as addressed personally to us. The same living Word is spoken in our midst today—at Mass, in Scripture, and in prayer. May we be attentive and open, ready to listen with faith and respond generously, allowing the Word of God to shape our lives and guide us as disciples of Christ in our parish and beyond.
